Generation No. 1

1. HARM<sup>1</sup> JANßEN was born Abt. 1756 in Simonswolde, Ostfriesland (Germany), and died 19 Apr 1809 in Simonswolde, Ostfriesland (Germany). He married SYVER JELLEN 1781. She was born 17 Apr 1747 in Simonswolde, Ostfriesland (Germany), and died 18 Oct 1827 in Simonswolde, Ostfriesland (Germany).

Notes for HARM JANßEN:

The Schneidermann family originated in Simonswolde, Ostfriesland (now northwestern Germany) in the year 1811. Harm JanBen, his wife Syver Jellen, and their 5 children: Jelle Harms, Jan Harms, Hinderk Harms, Geeske Harms, and Harm, adopted the surname Schneidermann in response to a decree issued by Napoleon to the conquered German people. Soon after, Ostfriesland came under Prussian control and stayed that way until Germany's unification in 1866. By the late 1850's through the 1880's, Schneidermann family members emigrated to America to make for themselves a better life. They settled in Ostfriesland communities found in Illinois, Iowa, South Dakota, and Minnesota.

More About KATIE GOEMAN:

Burial: Appleton Cemetery, Appleton, Swift, MN

Notes for SIKKE (JOHN) EVERTS DEGROOT:

A document from Holland, states Sikke was born in Grouw. Family information received from Holland says "The names of the places that are mentioned, are of the place where the certificates were written down. These places were larger and had an archief. This means that the real place of birth or death may be an other (smaller) place near to the archief. Grouw, for instance is a smaller place near Idaarderadeel, but since it had no archief, people had to go to Idaarderadeel for the official document."

Records from Ellis Island indicate Sikke's port of departure was Rotterdam, South Holland, The Netherlands, on the ship NIEUW AMSTERDAM. His arrival date was March 23, 1909.
